Preface

Joining the Financial Study association Amsterdam is a great step in your future career. Through this brochure we want to inform you why becoming a member would be a great choice for you.

The FSA functions as the link between companies and students to meet their future employer. We facilitate face-to-face contact with a large number of potential future employers by organising career events together with leading companies. Moreover, we offer a great number of vacancies, traineeships, internships, thesis internships, and working student positions at all our partner companies. By becoming a member of the FSA, you can also apply for our events – organised by our committee members. The FSA hosts a total of 21+ career events for its members focused on finance, business, accountancy, consultancy, data science, and economics.

Do you want to boost your CV, get in touch with interesting businesses, develop your organisational skills and enjoy the best social activities? Take a look at the possibilities of becoming a committee member at the FSA. Joining a committee will give you access to our portfolio of partner companies, which is unmatched in the Netherlands. The world's largest investment banks, prestigious corporate finance boutiques, strategy consultancy companies, asset management firms, and multinationals participate in our events. As an active member of the FSA, you will learn a lot about the business world and different sectors. By joining a committee you will develop personal and teamwork skills. Additionally, becoming a committee member means joining an exclusive social and ambitious community. Enjoy the monthly drinks, a ski trip, and many more other activities together with over 50 committee members. This unique group of ambitious and social students forms a tight network throughout the year.

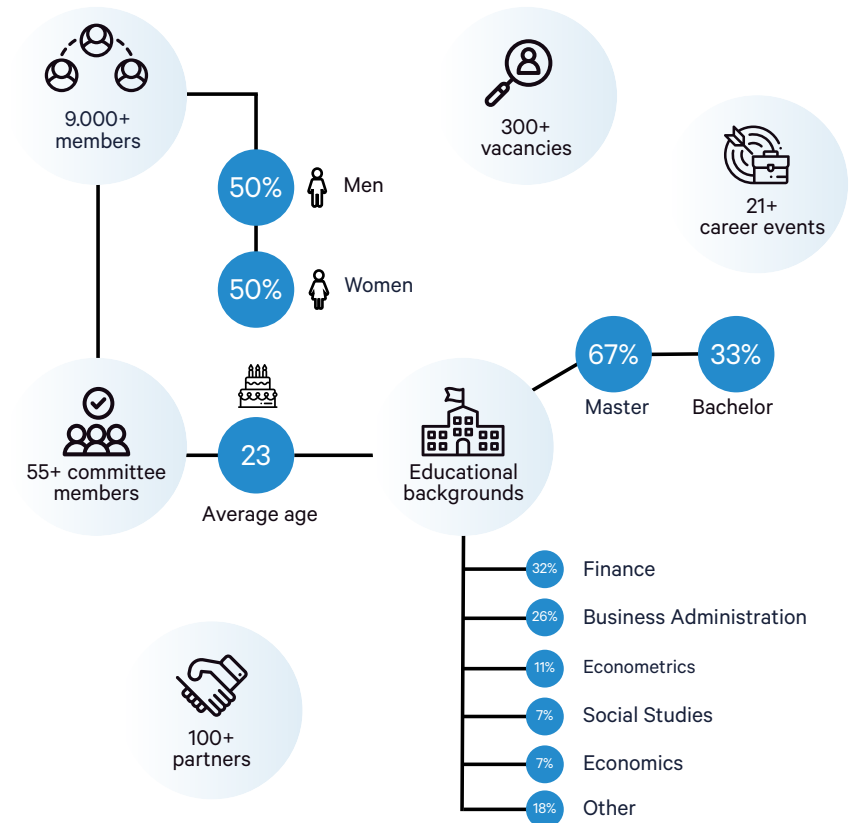

The FSA is the perfect step in your future career to build your resume and engage in an intimate social community.
